

Going beyond Phishing tests. Are your users fully aware? You've trained them to spot a suspect email, but what's the true shape of their online persona? How might an attacker actually socially engineer them in reality?

RISK & THE HUMAN FIREWALL

Your users live rich & diverse digital lives, interacting in myriad ways through a wide range of channels. They date, network, blog, comment, follow, upload photos & in many cases disclose intimate details of their private lives to strangers, sometimes to the whole planet. They also reveal their professional profiles & the identity of their employer. Learn about this growing challenge in our engaging workshop.

TESTIMONIALS FROM ATTENDEES

“This course grabbed me from the very start. I think it was very ‘to the point’ and very much in keeping with the type of scenarios we hear about from victims. I didn’t realise how much info is available online. This was certainly eye opening.”

Financial Crime Analyst

“The mobile phone demo was a shocking one for me. I actually have a case where a consumer is claiming he was hacked, a key logger was installed and his business laptop was accessed. My first instinct would normally be not to believe the person but now I will investigate this possibility from the victim and his IT team.”

Financial Crime Analyst

“I have already recommended this course to colleagues within the organisation who would also benefit.”

Fraud Manager

“Very clear and structured delivery. I have nothing but praise for the trainer as he was very approachable, engaging, and nothing was too much trouble. I have also been discussing it with colleagues and managers, explaining how good and important the course is.”

Financial Crime Analyst

“Mark’s knowledge and experience as a trainer was evident. He brought the subject to life.”
